FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

BOULDER CREEK BUILDERS SELECTED AS NEWEST HOME BUILDER AT STAPLETON DENVER

"Possibilities" Line to Fill a Niche in the Market for "Right-Sized" Patio Homes Ideal for Empty Nesters

(Louisville, CO) – August 14th, 2012— Boulder Creek Builders is proud to officially announce that it is the newest home builder in Stapleton Denver, the number one selling community in Colorado. Boulder Creek Builders was selected by Forest City Denver to create their "Possibilities" line of patio homes at the new Bluff Lake neighborhood to begin construction later this year. Ranch style patio homes are in short supply in Stapleton and have been in high demand among empty nesters eager to live near their grandkids already living in the neighborhood. Boulder Creek's strong emphasis on smart green building practices and strong reputation as the local patio home expert made them an ideal fit for Stapleton.

"We are extremely excited to be bringing something new to Stapleton, and judging by initial interest we've received, our decision to create smart and efficient green homes suited for empty nesters in a community known for young families is a good one," said David Sinkey, principal of Boulder Creek. "Our Possibilities line provides a unique choice for those interested in a low-maintenance, lock-and-leave lifestyle and we believe our vision aligns perfectly with that of Stapleton Denver."

Boulder Creek will start out with building 15 of their signature "right-sized" patio homes in the new Bluff Lake neighborhood starting in September and will expand to the North Neighborhoods in early 2013. Construction of the Patio Homes will start this fall as Boulder Creek prepares to open its first model home in Bluff Lake early 2013. Boulder Creek will be offering seven new single-family patio home designs with home-fronts facing parks and green spaces. The homes will feature main-floor living and spacious great room designs with incredible included features. In addition, each home is designed and built to exceed Energy Star standards and will be tested for performance at the completion of the home.

"We have wanted to create more opportunities for baby boomers at Stapleton for some time," said Stapleton Marketing Director Tasha Jones. "The strategy and vision behind Boulder Creek's home are a perfect fit for this community and we look forward to a long-standing relationship as we move to North Neighborhoods."
